Marching freshmen

Now that football season is just around the corner, marching band season is nearing its starting line. Sikeston's freshman band is just one of many in this area that is working hard for the coming halftime shows. Several mornings each week the band members are out on the practice field trying to get their steps and music ready for the first game. Among this year's new music - makers (top photo) are majorette Leslie Schuchart, front, and from left, twirlers Cyndy Cox, Judy Clayton, Suzie Farley, Kelly Wade and Ann Burlison, clarinetist Tanya Pippen (left photo); sousaphonist Paul Swinney (right photo); and band director Ed Cowan (bottom left photo) inspecting some of his charges.

Phase 4 takes effect today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation is now under Phase 4 wage-price regulations, which took effect today.

Under the new rules imposed by President Nixon, prices set by small and medium sized businesses may be increased to reflect cost increases since the last quarter of 1972.

However larger firms, the 1,700 companies with business of $100 million a year, will have to give 30 days notice of any price hikes.

Exempt from the new regulations will be businesses with 60 employes or less, as will the lumber industry and public service industries.

Gasoline and petroleum products will remain frozen until Aug. 19, and beef prices will be frozen until Sept. 12.

Special rules will apply to the insurance and health industries.

The 5.5 per cent wage increase guideline is to continue from Phase 3.

Commerce Secretary Frederick B. Dent says Phase 4 will probably be ended this year, but no firm date for ending it has been set.

The administration has not made predictions as to the results of the new program and no target for the rate of inflation by the end of the year has been set.

The goal of Phase 4,

Arson blamed in auto salvage fire

Fire officials are blaming arson for the fire which broke out about 11:30 p.m. Sunday at Big Red's Auto Salvage on Route AA in Miner.

Miner Fire Chief Jim Roth said "it was definitely arson ... it had to be set."

Roth said someone apparently poured a fluid around the south wall of the old frame building. There were no electric wires in the area, nor anything else that could have started the fire, he said.

The fire burned a hole in the south wall and scorched the ceiling of the room.

Manager Charles Talley said a cardboard box had been moved from a shelf several feet away to the wall. The auto parts in the box were found laying in the burned area.

The fire was discovered by neighbors who noticed smoke pouring from the building. Roth said that if the fire had gone undiscovered for another 10 minutes, the building would have been lost.

The auto salvage yard opened only a week ago. Talley said he didn't know who would want to set fire to the building.

Talley said he would offer a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviciton of the person who set the fire.

The Miner Fire Department also was called at 9:30 p.m. Sunday to the Terry James trailer on Route HH when lightning struck the mobile home and burned up the air conditioner.

Attendance tops 35,000

Slightly more than 35,000 persons attended the 21st annual Sikeston Jaycee Bootheel Rodeo Thursday through Sunday, according to Art Saunders of Little Rock, Ark., "granddaddy" of the rodeo. Headlining the four-day event were Roy Rogers and Dale Evans who appeared with Dusty Rogers and the Sons of the Pioneers.

The Saturday night sellout crowd of over 10,000 was the largest ever to attend a single performance of the Jaycee Bootheel Rodeo as a result of an increase in seating capacity at the rodeo grounds. Thursday night rodeo fans braved rain, at times heavy, to witness the opening performance.

The total attendance represents one of the biggest in the rodeo's history, and it may be the biggest, according to Joe Marsh, board member in charge of tickets who also said it was probably the biggest in gross receipts.

Perry Lee of Wichita Falls, Tex., was named champion all around cowboy of the event.

Costs state $21,000 to pick up area litter

Litter dropped along the highway by motorists in Scott, Stoddard, Mississippi and New Madrid counties has cost the state $21,070 to pick up, the Missouri Highway Department has announced.

The clean up costs statewide were $546,000.

Litter pick- up is a continuing task of the department with the greatest amount of work being done in the spring.

It cost $6,105 to pick up trash along highways in Scott County, $5.073 in Stoddard, $6,225 in New Madrid, and $3,667 in Mississippi.

CHARLESTON — Two black males are being sought by Mississippi County sheriff's officers in connection with an attempted robbery and knifing.

Deputy Sheriff Mike Baughman said today that he was called about 2:15 a.m. Sunday to investigate the incident which occurred on the Interstate 57 overpass near the south city limits.

John Wayne Walker, 30, of Charleston reportedly told Baughman he was walking on the overpass when the two black men drove up in a white car, got out and demanded his money.

The men reportedly became angry when Walker told them he had no money, and one of the subjects drew a knife and slashed Walker across the lower abdomen making a four-inch superficial wound.

Walker was treated at Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston and released.

12 injured over weekend

Twelve persons were injured in six area traffic accidents over the weekend, the highway patrol reported today.

Three persons were injured in an accident at 4:50 p.m. Saturday on Highway 62 in Miner when a car driven west by Charles V. Grammer, 63, of Jonesboro, Ill., turned into the path of an eastbound car driven by Porter Edward Brewer, 22, of Sikeston and struck the Brewer car almost head on.

Grammer and his wife Esther, 60, received minor injuries. A passenger in the Brewer auto, Ron McDowell, 20, of Sikeston also received minor injuries. All were treated at Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston.

Larry Green, 25, of Chicago, Ill., received minor injuries at 2:20 a.m. Sunday when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel and ran his car into a bridge railing on Interstate 55 five miles south of Sikeston.

Green's wife Delcine, 21, suffered cuts. Both were taken to Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

Three persons were injured at 12:45 p.m. Sunday on Route U two miles south of Patterson when a car driven by Eric Dees, 17, of St. Louis lost control of his car of a curve, crossed the center line and collided with a car driven by Morgan Phelps, 24, of Piedmont.

Injured were Phelps, who received a broken collar bone; Dees, who suffered a broken left leg; and a passenger in the Dees auto, Cheree Gonzalez, 17, of Lemay, who suffered a fractured arm. All were taken to Wayne County Medical Center in Piedmont.

Two passengers were injured at 9:30 p.m. Sunday on Route U two miles west of Caruthersville when a car driven by James Thomas, 27, of Hayti, stalled on the highway with lights off, was struck behind by a tractor-trailer truck driven by Eugene Cook, 29, of Caruthersville.

Slightly injured in the Thomas car were James Richardson, 28, of Caruthersville and Alex Green, 6, of Hayti. Both were taken to Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital in Hayti.

A two -car accident at 12:35 a.m. today five miles south of Hayti on Highway 61 resulted in minor injuries to Willie Hardin, 51, of Omaha, Neb.

The accident occurred when Hardin stopped his car on the pavement and was struck from behind by a car driven by Dirk Robinson, 18, of St. Louis.

Hardin was taken to Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital.

Raymond Bles, 60, of Scott City was injured at 6 a.m. today three miles south of Sikeston on Interstate 55 when a car driven by Leroy Rush, 27, of Preston, Miss., overtook the Bles auto and struck it from behind, knocking it 236 feet. The Preston car then continued on another 897 feet. The patrol said Preston was cited for careless and imprudent driving.

Bles was treated for cuts on the face and chest at Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

Truck stolen

The theft of a pickup truck and several tires from Riley's Sunoco Service Station on Highway 62 East was one of three thefts reported to police Saturday and Sunday.

The truck, a 1972 Chevrolet, and the tires were taken from inside the station.

Owner Richard Riley said he didn't know yet how many tires were taken. He said his name was on the side of the truck.

The theft apparently occurred sometime Sunday morning.

Jim Crocker, 105 Adams, told police that someone took a water pump from his back yard between 8 p.m. Saturday and 12:30 p.m. Sunday. The pump was valued at $15.

Martha Raines, 131 N. Frisco, told police that someone entered her home Sunday morning and took several items of clothing. The thief entered through an unlocked door. Police did not give the value of the clothing.

Manslaughter charges being filed against Carmichael

Manslaughter charges are being filed against Morris Earl Carmichael, 30 of Knoxville, Tenn., the driver of a tractor- trailer truck which struck the rear of a car parked on the side of Interstate Highway 55 Saturday south of Benton.

Scott County Prosecuting Attorney Jim Moore said Carmichael is being accused of willful negligence in the accident which killed Aurelious Bryant, 37, of St. Louis.

Carmichael is being transferred from Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau to a Memphis hospital. His injuries were first diagnosed to be minor, but have apparently been discovered to be more serious.

Fire destroys back of barbecue

Fire broke out at 4:45 p.m. Saturday in the back of the JoJo's Pit Barbecue, 522 S. Kingshighway, destroying the room which housed the restaurant.

Firemen were able to save the dining area, but the building suffered considerable water damage.

The back of the building was engulfed in flames when firemen arrived, but they were able to bring the blaze under control before it spread through the rest of the old frame structure.

Fire Chief Larry Linnemeyer estimated the loss at about $2,500.

Firemen were called at 8:19 a.m. Sunday to Shuffitt's Nursing Home No. 1 on Ruth Street when a fan in the attic burned up. There was no other damage.

Rescue squad called

The Sikeston Rescue Squad was called to a traffic accident at 4:40 p.m. Saturday on Highway 62 at the Interstate 55 interchange to help free persons from both cars involved in the accident. Fireman O. C. Chism, right, and volunteer fireman Earl McConnell were among members of the squad which pulled the cars apart. Three persons were injured in the accident and were taken to Missouri Delta Community Hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

A tip from Aubrey E. Ferguson, Editor of the Ritchie Gazette in Harrisville, West Virginia. "If you make your job important, it is quite likely to return the favor."

In this fabulous land of opportunity, there seems to be some people wandering around seeing only the negatives of their lives. Our advice: Think Big! Faith can (and does) move mountains.

Looking at the bikinis the girls wear today, and we are not so old but what we still look, it causes us to wonder how long it will be until the girls are swimming in the nude. Now a lot of you think such a thing is preposterous. But if you are 35 years old, think back 20 years on what the girls wore then. Now this swimming in the nude is nothing new for boys. Seventy years ago a group of us would run for "flat rock," the old swimming hole on Salt River in the northwest edge of Paris. We'd cross the railroad track, climb the fence and begin taking off our clothes, still on the run. We'd hang them on the bushes and by the time we reached the water, we'd be naked. Of course, girls did not go swimming then. We're glad our wife did not wear a bikini, although as a girl she would have looked as beautiful as any of them do now.

NO FOOD STAMPS FOR STRIKERS!

In an otherwise unacceptable farm bill, the House approved a ban on food stamps for strikers.

Strikers never should have received food stamps in the first place. Why should taxpayers have to subsidize people who have voluntarily walked off the job? This amounts to the conscription of public money to back strikers against employers. The practice should have been outlawed long ago.

But now the Senate has refused to accept the ban on food stamps voted by the House, defeating an amendment that would have prohibited distribution of food stamps to most strikers.

The ban should be reinstated in the House- Senate conference on the bill. Food stamps were never intended to help win a strike. Unless the prohibition is written into this bill, taxpayers should consider legal action to stop the government from using tax funds in this fashion.

It makes no more sense to give strikers food stamps than it would to give employers' whose plants have been struck an equivalent amount of aid from federal tax funds.

THE POLICEMAN

What is a policeman made of? He, of all men, is at once the most needed and the most unwanted.

He's a strangely nameless creature who is "SIR" to his face and "FUZZ" behind his back.

If a policeman is neat, he's conceited; if he's careless, he's a bum.

If he's pleasant, he's a flirt; if he's not, he's a grouch.

If he hurries, he's careless; if he's deliberate, he's lazy.

He must be first to an accident and infallible with a diagnosis.

He must be able to start breathing, stop bleeding, tie splints and, above all, be sure the victim goes home without a limp. Or expect to be sued.

The police officer must know every gun, draw on the run, and hit where it doesn't hurt.

He must be able to whip two men twice his size and half his age without damaging his uniform and without being "brutal."

The policeman must be a minister, a social worker, a diplomat, a tough guy, and a gentleman.

And of course he'll have to be a genius .....

For he'll have to feed a family on a policeman's salary.

KILLING OFF TEENAGE JOBS

The Congress of the United States, which should be vitally concerned with making it possible for teenagers and other students to get vacation time jobs, is actually killing the chances that these boys and girls can find something to do.

Last week the minimum wage was raised to $2.20 an hour. It may not finally pass, and if so, may not be approved by the President.

If it is however, youths of the nation looking for vacation jobs can expect to remain in idleness, with few if any jobs available.

Like most every other business, there are times when we could use vacation- time youths as help in our office.

Like most others also, we cannot afford to pay $2.20 for unskilled help that will work for only a short time. By the time they become skilled enough to earn their pay, it is time for them to return to school.

That law should have a provision that would allow payment on the basis of skills or work tenure. Only by this method can we expect to have jobs available and keep our youth busy, and many of them out of the difficulties that idleness often breeds.

This country newspaper publisher doesn't pretend to understand world economics and its relation to our devalued dollar, except we have watched the election of public officials since the days of the New Deal and after World War II who have led this nation into the continuing crisis of inflation. So our hard- nosed banker relative who believes the postwar era is finished and that the world must pay the penalty for its excesses, for living far beyond its means, sent us a special report to enlighten us. We reprint a portion of it as follows:

"The dollar has been savagely battered from Frankfurt to Hong Kong. Just since March, for example, when the money markets were reopened after the last crisis, the German mark has appreciated 26 per cent against the dollar, the Swiss franc 22 per cent, and the French franc 19 per cent. Since May 1971, when some currencies first began to float freely, the German mark and the Swiss franc have both risen about 64 per cent, the French franc 43 per cent. This should have salutary effects on the U.S. exports in the long run.

"...People intent on protecting their assets want protection now and are not comforted by hazy predictions of U.S. trade surpluses off in the distant future. The fact is that there are simply too many 'undervalued' dollars floating around. We've flooded the whole world with them. People are drowning in them and want to get rid of them. That includes not only bankers and businessmen -- U.S. multinational types as well foreigners -- but every French peasant, German shopkeeper, Italian restaurant owner and Spanish resort operator. That's the first thing an American tourist learns when he goes over seas -- the almighty buck is no longer.

"What's so strange about that? It was entirely predictable. On the basis that two and two equals four, always has and always will. Forget for a moment the mechanics of how we managed to inundate the world with dollars. What it amounts to is that we've been running the printing presses night and day. And, instead of dumping all the dollars on these shores, we sent boatloads overseas. Foreigners were willing to accept them for a long time -- much longer than they should have -- at face value. That is, they went along with the fiction that each dollar was backed by one- thirty- fifth of an ounce of gold -- long after it had become apparent that there wasn't gold enough in Fort Knox to redeem even a fraction of them ...

"The cheaper the dollar becomes, the harder it is for other nations to sell us goods. That's why there's such a clamor for us to use our reserve assets -- gold and foreign currencies -- and borrow more if we have to for the purpose of supporting the dollar. Foreigners may be able to persuade us to go in and help them prop up the dollar. It's happened before. And it'll be just as temporary. A worse crisis will follow.

"Attempts to artificially keep the dollar's head above water can't succeed for long. They don't get at the root of the problem. That problem is lack of confidence. Until confidence in the dollar is restored, such efforts will prove to be nothing more than stop- gap maneuvers. And when they end, free market forces will put the pressure on again U.S. inflation must be halted, balance of payments deficits must cease before confidence returns.

"Fears that we're incapable of getting our house in order are behind the heavy dollar sales. This, plus the huge supply of dollars that has already been left in foreigners' hands. Foreigners have literally been left holding the bag -- in this case, the 'buck.' An oversupply of any commodity usually results eventually in lower prices. That, in turn, ordinarily causes a cutback in production. Not so with dollars. We keep printing more of them. And the more we print, the less they're worth. No wonder nobody wants them!"

If that doesn't curl your hair, just don't say that we didn't try to warn you -- as they tighten the credit spigot and hike interest rates.

INDIANS MUST LOOK AHEAD, NOT BACK

"We are the original owners of this land," said Russell Means, a leader of AIM, the American Indian Movement, at the second battle of Wounded Knee, S. D.

"For 480 years we have been trying to obtain justice from the white man," said one of the Indians demonstrating in front of the United Nations in New York.

This is good oratory. I may be good psychology. But it is not realism, and it not the truth.

No one alive today had anything to do with the injustices done the red man in the settlement of this continent, any more than anyone alive today had anything to do with the sin of slavery against the black man.

What is true is simply that all of us, of whatever color or ancestral origin, are the common heirs of history, a history we had no part in making. Nothing that has gone before can be recalled or undone. If the past lies like a heavy burden, the only escape is by looking to the future.

Let the Indians speak to us as fellow Americans, which they are, with certain grievances and needs and dreams as Americans — not as aliens who would attempt to recapture something that is as irretrievably lost as the last, long- dead campfire on Manhattan.

Last year, Santa Claus mistakenly slipped down the wrong chimney and found himself within ther perfumed confines of a large bawdy house.

For a brief instant, Santa was shocked at finding himself in such unlikely surroundings, but soon managed to regain his composure as one of the girls approached him.

"Excuse me, Miss," he apologized. "I'll be on my way."

"Why don't you stick around for a little while," invited the girl. "It's nice and warm in here."

"Sure, Santa," entreated a semi-nude girl, entering from the hallway. "Take off your pack and stay a while."

"I really can't spare the time," he sighed, gazing at her exquisite figure. "I have a big load of toys to deliver — and I'd hate to disappoint the kids."

"Oh, c'mom, Santa," she cooed, snuggling up close to him. "At least stay for a few minutes."

"Might as well," he agreed, letting his pack fall to the floor. "Besides, I couldn't get up the chimney now, the way I feel!"

POSITIVE ACTION

Two philosophies of environmentalism -- or ecological preservation -- have taken shape. One places a heavy emphasis on negative action. In substance, it would simply curtail human activity and reduce our lives to a substandard existence. The other philosophy envisions new and improved ways of doing things and of using the Earth's resources.

A good illustration of the latter philosophy is described in a New York Times feature on timber harvesting methods being developed by the forest industry to satisfy both ecologists and the need for more profitable timber harvesting practices. An official of a large timber products concern declares that it is possible to clearcut a forest in an aesthetic manner that "will not give the harvested area the looks of Iwo Jima." The Times piece reported on a cooperative undertaking of this company and the federal government in the Teton National Forest in Wyoming. Ingenious machines were built for the experiment. With this special equipment, developed by the forest products industry, waste is virtually eliminated. An impact on forest environment is held to a minimum, and two or three years are gained in reseeding operations. One machine reduces the entire tree- tops, branches and leaves to chips. Traditional slash burning is eliminated by the new method of forest harvesting.

This is an example of the kind of preservation -- and use -- of resources embodies in the positive environmental philosophy of moving ahead rather than backwards. It is the only philosophy that can meet both people's needs and the conservation needs.

TAKE THE DISCOUNT

If an invoice offers 2% — 10 days/ 30 days net, by all means take the discount. Otherwise you are paying a high rate of interest by passing it by. For example, suppose you owe $1000 and do not take the 2% discount.

You are in effect paying $20 to have use of your money for 20 more days.

At $1 a day, this amounts to 36.5% interest you are paying ($1 daily for 365 days). You pay this same rate of interest whatever the amount of your invoice may be if you pass up the 2%—10.

HELPING PEOPLE

HELP THEMSELVES

The problem of poverty is one of the most perplexing issues confronting the people of the United States. No single issue has been more obscured by emotional appeals from self-serving politicians and collectivist- minded social reformers. The major effect of the shortsighted gimmicks offered as alternatives to the problem of poverty has been to undermine the most effective economic system ever created.

The definition of poverty is always relative to the accepted standard of living of the rest of society. In this respect, poverty will always exist since some individuals are not motivated to achieve this standard. However, the personal enterprise profit- motive system has made it possible for those who truly wish to do so rise above the poverty level through their own efforts. In fact, the dilemma we face today is a result of the tremendous acceleration of economic progress made possible by this system.

The very miracles brought about in our age by the profit-motive system have created expectations that keep running ahead even of the accelerating progress, and so have led to an incredibly shortsighed impatience that threatens to destroy the very system that makes such expectations possible.

The answer to the problem of poverty lies in the preservation of the profit motive system. The most constructive remedy for poverty is to provide each individual with a means of helping himself. Neither government nor charity will provide permanent solutions to the condition of poverty, only the individual who is motivated to help himself.

NEW YORK (AP) — Larry Uttal flopped in doughnuts. He flopped in the retail lothing field. He flopped as a songwriter. He flopped a couple of times as a music publisher.

But now, at 51, Larry Uttal has made a fortune as one of America's top record executives.

"You learn more from your failures than you do from success," said Uttal, the bearded, unconventional president of Bell Records, one of the top companies in the business. Recently his firm had the No.1, No. 2 and No. 3 top hit singles on the sales charts, a feat unprecedented in the industry.

His firm over a two-year period has become a leading producer in Great Britain and turned out 20 gold records, each of which has sold more than a million discs.

"But you can lose money, even on a hit record, if you spend too much for the talent or promotion," said Uttal. "The things that count in this business are continuity and followup.

"You don't have time to enjoy the luxury of a hit record. It may gross $400,000 for the manufacturer, but he may net only five per cent of that. Its life as a heavy seller usually lasts only about six weeks. At the end of from three to six months it is dead — and there is nothing deader than a dead hit record. If you aren't ready then to follow it up with another hit, you'll probably be dead soon, too."

Part of Uttal's success is attributed to his skill in handling artists and discovering new talent.

The Bell stable includes such stars as the Partridge Family, the Fifth Dimension, David Cassidy, Dawn, Edison Lighthouse, Vickie Lawrence, a featured performer on the Carol Burnett television show, and young Gary Glitter, who has been hailed as "The Elvis Presley of Great Britain." Bell also turned out the original cast album of the musical "Godspell," which won the industry's Grammy Award.

Larry, who studied statistics in college, became a captain in the medical corps during World War II. He said he turned to pop music chiefly to escape the ordeal of "12 hateful years of playing classical music" as a child.

He learned from his two children to appreciate rock music, of which he is now an expert judge.

Look Homeward, Angel: Sam Ervin Overlooks Cover-Up Of Mob in His Own State.

NEW YORK — If one may respectfully proffer advice to Sen. Sam Ervin, the gentleman from North Carolina, it is to look homeward, angel. Having spent so much time and money probing one cover-up, The Chairman might well spend some time looking into a more callous cover-up in his own state.

The droll Bible-quoting Senator, who is such a specialist in the Constitution written by our forefathers, might be interested in how it is being ripped to shreds, as are the admonitions of the Bible, by what we street urchins call the Godfathers-- the so-called Mafia families of the Northeast.

The still sadistic organized-crime button men, troops, capos and consiglieres are making millions of dollars illegitimately from North Carolina cigarettes.

There has just been disclosed, in a documented report by the New York State Commission of Investigation, that North Carolina's "Tobacco Road" (in the Roanake Rapids sector) is the source of hundreds of millions of dollars worth of cartons of cigarettes purchased with immunity there, smuggled into a score of states and sold illegally by the mob and independent operators.

And according to investigators close to the case, few in North Carolina -- including Sam Ervin -- seem to care.

The operation has been underway for years. It is simple. The North Carolina tax on a pack of cigarettes is two cents. In New York City it runs about 21 cents. In Texas, as of mid-1972, it was 18.5 cents; in Pennsylvania 18 cents; Wisconsin 16 cents; in Ohio 15 cents, et al.

So the mob, you can believe it, has developed a transmission system ---moving by air, disguised trucks, trailers and private cars --- buys cheaply in the "Tobacco Road" sector of North Carolina and sells the untaxed cigarettes in Eastern seaboard states mostly, but is swiftly fanning out across the land.

It's told like it is by William O'Flaherty, president of the Tobacco Tax council:

Bootlegging of cigarettes is rapidly becoming a nationwide problem. As some other states have followed the New York pattern of setting higher and higher taxes, the bootleggers have moved in quickly and efficiently to take advantage of the price differential created by state action.

"Pennsylvania and New Jersey are being hit by the bootleggers. Florida and Connecticut both are beginning to see an emergence of a real problem. And there is a great concern on the West Coast where states see the problem of bootlegging looming in the future as new cigarette taxes are proposed."

And more recently, the run has reached into Ohio and is heading for Texas and as far as the state of Washington where the tax is March 1972 was 16 cents per pack.

There are, of course, many mon-and-pop smugglers. But the mob cares not. They can get all the cigarettes they want in North Carolina. They get it into aircraft or trailers hauling 60,000 cartons and speed them along.

The underworld even has set up an "expediter" somewhere along Tobacco Road, according to the crusading New York Commission of Investigation report. Why not? One member of the so-called Colombo family made over $1.1 million in six months. The "take" in smoke is terrific.

The cost to Eastern seaboard states is as terrific. New York City and State have lost, over five years, more than $384 million in overall uncollected tax revenues on the smuggled cigarettes.

So devastating is this racket that a special task force has been set up under Commissioner James O'Connor, director of the Special Investigations Bureau of the New York State Dept. of Taxation and Finance, under the supervision of the state First Deputy Commissioner Alfred Green.

They mean business. The tax money is needed for education, slum clearance, aid to the poor and to ease the general tax load.

This unit works with similar enforcement officers in many other states --and can be reached at the hot-line number (212) 267-1617. They need the help of the citizenry --and the North Carolina officials, state and local police and sheriff's offices, too.

Why is it so easy for the mob to buy cigarettes on the notorious North Carolina Tobacco Road? They know there that the "troops" of the so-called Colombo, Genovese, Luchese, De Cavalcante, Gambino, and Philadelphia's Angelo Bruno (according to the report) are all wrapped up in this run of smuggled cigarettes to the other high-tax states where they are "fenced" and worked into the mob vending machine operations.

Why all this cooperation by the wholesalers with such unsavory men linked back to such men as "Big Mike" Michele Miranda, the Godfather to whom even the toughest have doffed their hats for decades? Why are such ruses used as making out bills of lading to St. Albans Naval Hospital, etc., etc.? Cigarette manufacturing is North Carolina's major industrial activity.

Surely it doesn't want to be besmirched by the greed of some Tobacco Road wholesalers. Surely Sen. Sam Ervin, who has had so much fun with you-know-who in the capital on you-know-what cover-up, should be interested in who is covering up the multi- million -dollar sales of cigarettes to the mob. It all would make quite a hearing.

All the Senator need do to his own state be true ---call the hot-line number (212) 267-1617. He might even get himself some TV coverage.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

JACK ANDERSON SAYS:

Four Forgotten Cubans

WASHINGTON-- All but forgotten in the Watergate wreckage are the four Cubans who were recruited to do the dirty work.

They thought they were serving their adopted country. Three of the four had been trained by the Central Intelligence Agency and had risked their lives on CIA missions.

Engenio Martinez, for instance, slipped into Cuba at least 300 times. He carried out his CIA orders so faithfully that he wouldn't jeopardize the missions to rescue his own parents. They eventually died in Cuba. Martinez would have been tortured to death if he had been caught. Yet he risked his life repeatedly for a CIA salary of $300 a month.

At the appeal of the wives, I interrupted a trip and flew back to Washington to speak to the four Cubans at the Rockville, Md., detention center. It was their first press interview.

We have no doubt after a long talk with the four Cubans that they were motivated by a misguided sense of patriotism. Their leader, Bernard Barker, went directly to the White House for their orders. In those impressive surroundings he was aksed by his former CIA superior, E. Howard Hunt, to handle some surreptitious, national security missions.

ELLSBERG'S RECORDS

Not until ten minutes before the Cuban break- in crew tried to steal Daniel Ellsberg's pyshiatric records were they told the object of their mission. They had been led to believe they were after a spy who had been delivering military secrets to the Soviet embassy.

Before they broke into Democratic party headquarters, they were told their main mission was to seek supposed evidence of secret communist contributions to the Democrats.

Their arrest caused international shock waves. But it was the White House plotters, not the four Cubans, who panicked.

A reported $460,000 was slipped to the Watergate defendants and their lawyers to buy their silence. Yet only a paltry few dollars filtered down to the Cubans-- less than $14,000 to help them maintain their families, another $13,000 to their first attorney, Henry Rothblatt. Frank Sturgis, for example, collected a total of $2,500 in expenses. Virgilio Gonzalez and Eugenio Martines received $1,600 to $1,800 apiece.

Despite all the hundreds of thousands in hush money, those at the top were the first to break. The poorly paid Cubans, true to their CIA training, refused to talk.

They wound up behind bars while those who plotted the Watergate crimes remained free. Bob Haldeman and John Ehrlichman, even after their dismissal from the White House, were chauffeured to the grand jury in White House limousines. The four Cubans were brought in manacles by federal marshals.

CUT OFF

Long ago, the Cubans were completely cut off by the White House. In contrast, John Wilson, the attorney for Haldeman and Ehrlichman, conferred personally with the President. Haldeman was even permitted to use secret White House tapes to help prepare his defense-- the same tapes that had been refused to the Watergate prosecutors and Senate investigators.

Barker, known to the others as Macho (He- Man), still talks about "loyalty" and "honor." His real estate business has been wiped out, the office furniture sold. His wife, Clara, works in the restaurant of a Miami hotel to make ends meet.

Sturgis is more bitter. He attributes the death of his mother to the Watergate reaction. He owes $3,000 in hospital and funeral bills. Some of his creditors are threatening to sue. His wife, Jan, is working to pay off the bills.

Martinez was divorced the day of his arrest. But he boasts of his 20- year- old stepson, Dominick, who took his name and is now a medal- winning parachutist in the Marines. Gonzalez also worries about his wife who lives alone with their 11- year- old daughter.

Cuban friends have been trying to raise a defense fund to help pay the bills. They have raised enough to distribute $750 to each family and to pay the attorney, Daniel Schultz, $5,500.

"We now know we did wrong," said Sturgis. "But as God is our judge, we thought at the time we were serving the country."

Footnote: The Cubans have also become the subject of malicious rumors, including one report that they helped plot the assassination of President Kennedy. As evidence a picture has been circulated allegedly showing Sturgis at Dallas on the day of the assassination. We have seen the picture; it is not Sturgis. We have also checked out the report; it is not true.

Mayor improved after emergency operation in N.Y.

DEXTER — Mayor Willis Conner underwent emergency surgery for a "massive blood clot" in his shoulders in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., Wednesday, but is "feeling much better," according to his wife Marie.

Conner became ill as he and Mrs. Conner were landing in New York earlier last week.

His illness was later diagnosed as a "massive blood clot" between his shoulders and in his neck, and he underwent emergency surgery at the Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Conner said her husband complained that he didn't "feel good" just as the big airliner was landing in New York. They got off the plane, however, and were met by their daughter Carol and her husband, Nicholas Lomangino, at the airport.

Conner continued to complain of feeling ill and said that his "neck hurt" after arrival at their daughter's home.

"By that time he was paralyzed," Mrs. Conner said.

He was immediately given an emergency examination and later was taken to the Poughkeepsie hospital where he underwent surgery.

Mrs. Conner said her husband was scheduled to be removed from intensive care Saturday.

"He is feeling much better and is in good spirits," she related.

He is expected to remain in the hospital for about 10 days, his wife said.

Car stolen

DEXTER — City police are investigating an automobile theft which occurred Sunday night.

A car belonging to Rick Cullum of Dexter was taken from the parking lot at Carlton Motors. Cullum, an employe of the motor company, had left his keys in the ignition switch.

Families are organizations

BENTON — The family is a viable organization, in itself, but one that is part of the broader social network. It is influenced by and influences other groups and institutions and society in general.

A family shapes a child's moral values and behavior patterns and so determines the kinds of roles he'll play in society as an adult. Social pressures and norms influence the family, as do discoveries, inventions and population shifts.

The changing family roles are in part due to society changes, so let's discuss the implications of both. In area of technology, more was added in the first half of the 20th century than during all previous history and probably more than all of the previous 50 years. These have revolutionized family life by raising man's level of living.

Another social trend which affects the family is the population revolution. In the United States, average life expectancy at the turn of the century was less than 50 years; now it's about 70 years. This means a larger proportion of elderly persons within families, which requires re- adjustments in the family economics and power. The birth rate is also reduced, for families of 3 children are more typical than 12 children common in the past generations. This smaller family changes level of living, size of homes, and interaction between sisters and brothers.

The third social trend we'll discuss is mobility. It's been estimated one in five families move each year. This also supports trend toward less involvement with grandparents, uncles, aunts, cousins, in-laws, once-removed, etc.

The final trend is so obvious we hardly need to mention it, but agriculture is no longer the main way of life. Manufacturing, marketing, and servicing occupations means shift from rural to urban or suburban way of life.

The technological population revolution probably are familiar from history or ecology manuals, but how about the democratic revolution?

The family, though scattering, is still the only base for security now open to man, according to Hobart in "Marriage and the Family," and the one that will stay intact if the family members rise to challenge.

The train and the double length veil were of nylon tulle with matching lace and held in place with a small cap. She carried a bouquet of white carnations accented with blue net and ribbon streamers.

Miss Sharon Craig of Morley was maid of honor and bridesmaid was Miss Dorothy Jones of Crowder, sister of the bride. They wore identical dresses, which were floor length and made of light blue crepe. Serving as best man was Rodney Bridger and groomsman was Glenn Greene. Ushers were Jim Byrd and Gary Vaught. All are from Sikeston.

Ann Landers

Wife's teen-aged daughter is not the real problem

Dear Ann Landers: I coach a Little League baseball team here in Nashville. One 14-year-old boy, call him Johnny, was on my team for two years.

During the last season, Johnny's father was killed in a car accident and it fell to me to inform Johnny of the death. Since then I've become Johnny's "big brother."

I travel quite a bit and Johnny frequently accompanies me. He's been a guest in the homes of my friends and acquaintances. Because he is so likeable he has endeared himself to many of these professional people.

We recently learned that Johnny has a terminal bone disease and will probably not live to see another winter. We want to do everything we can to make him happy. Johnny wants to revisit some of the places we've been and see our mutual friends again.

How can I tell those we will visit of Johnny's condition without provoking an over-response? We want everything to be as normal as possible. Johnny knows and he doesn't want any sympathy. How should I handle it? Thank you. --- From Tennessee

Dear F.T.: I see no reason to say anything. If the boy is well enough to travel he need not be treated as a sick child and no one has to know. And, I might add, you sound like a beautiful guy.

Dear Ann Landers: Four years ago I married a woman with a daughter from a previous marriage. The girl (now 17) has always caused trouble between my wife and me. I thought I could handle it. Now I'm not so sure.

A year ago my wife gave Melissa permission to use her charge accounts. Since that time, the bills have been out of sight. A few months ago I learned that Melissa let a few friends charge on her mother's account. So far the girls have not repaid Melissa and I doubt they ever will.

Last week I announced that I was writing to the stores stating that no one but my wife should be permitted to use her charge account. Melissa called me some choice names and her mother took her side. That same night my wife retaliated by moving into the guest room. I don't want to live on the other side of a wall for the rest of my life.

Should I hold my ground until next September when Melissa goes away to school? I hate to wait that long but if you say so, I will. --- Odd Man Out.

Dear Man: The girl in not the problem. She is merely the battlefield on which you nad your wife are fighting your own little war.

A woman who would impose this type of exile on her husband has no respect for the physical aspects of marriage. When sex is used as payment for favors and withheld as punishment the marriage is pegged at the prostitution level. Tell your wife you want her to go with you for counseling or you will put up a wall of your own. Like legal.

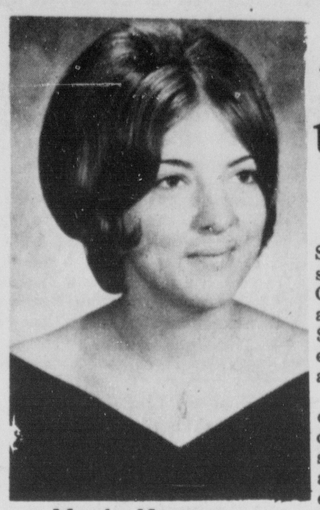

Dear Ann Landers: I am a middle-aged woman who has been reading your column for many years. I don't like to criticize because I think you do a world of good, but your language is becoming unbelievably crude.

Actually it's not the things you say in your comumn that I take exception to, it's the headlines you write. For example, the one I am looking at now: "STINKY HUSBAND CAN BE CURED."

I find such language offensive and I'm registering a complaint. ---Upstate New York REader

Dear New York: I have nothing to say about the headlines. Every paper writes its own. You should complain to the newspaper. You don't need to now, however--- they will read your complaint when they receive this copy.

Is alcoholism ruining your life? Know the danger signals and what to do.

Baptist leader dies

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Dr. Earl O. Harding, 61, the executive secretary of the Missouri Baptist Convention, died Sunday morning at St. Jary's Hospital here.

Harding had been under fire from some lay members of the church for his handling of funds.

He had been examined at the hospital and was later released after suffering a possible heart attack July 9 during a meeting of the Baptist convention's executive board, which was considering his handling of funds.

At the time his wife said the doctor believed Harding had not suffered a heart attack. He had been head of the 600,000-member church for 15 years.

Harding had been under fire since an audit for 1971 showed more than $53,000 in expenditures unaccounted for. A Springfield firm was hired to audit church funds for 1970-72.

Alternative offered to repairing funds

WASHINGTON (AP)— School superintendents of 21 states and the District of Columbia soon will be offered an alternative to avoid repaying $2.5 million in federal education funds they are accused of misspending.

General details of the so called "over-budgeting option," were released to selected members of Congress and Washington-based education organizations in secret briefings in the past week.

The government has accused the states of improperly using money from Title I of the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act as general aid rather than spending it for poor and migrant pupils who usually lag in reading and writing skills.

The compromise plan was approved July 24 by Frank C. Carlucci, undersecretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Chief state school officers should be formally notified within a week or two, according to agency sources.

The plan represents a compromise between the financial bind of school districts and complaints by black-oriented and civil rights organizations that the education law was not being enforced.

In general, the new plan offers states the option of raising state and local funds equal to the amounts challenged in Title I audits, and spending that money on top of existing programs in schools which were allegedly short-changed originally.

The money would have to be spent over not more than three years under a previously approved plan. There would be rigid monitoring controls to assure that misspending is not repeated.

The alternative is to repay the federal treasury, which would mean penalizing educationally disadvantaged children a second time, an HEW spokesman said.

The "Over-budgeting option" is offered only for misspending in fiscal years 1965 through 1969, when the Title I program was in its infancy.

"Audit exceptions for fiscal year 1970, and succeeding years, will have to be settled by the normal procedure of repayment of funds to the federal government," says a draft memo to states.

The new plan implies that enforcement of Title I repayments will begin shortly, a source said, although the memo reportedly will contain no such hint.

Beginning the program this school year will be complicated by the difficulty states and local school districts may experience in coming up with the new money, and in submitting spending plans to Washington for review and approval.

Illinois, Mississippi and North Carolina each have been told to repay more than $3 million, and South Carolina and Tennessee have been dunned for more than $2 million each.

All of those are in preliminary determination stages, however, which means there is room for negotiation.

In a letter to then-HEW Secretary Elliot L. Richardson a year ago, the Congressional Black Caucus said it was "appalled by the unwillingness or inability of your department to correct the subversion of the statute and regulations."

The HEW audits determined that a small percentage of the $10 billion in Title I funds spent so far went not to poor and minority children with severe learning handicaps but for general pupil aid and such extraneous items as sidewalks and building maintenance.

Ironically, the Title I repayment crackdown is coming at a time when the Nixon administration is trying to do away with most categorial school aid programs and replace them with special education revenue sharing.

The administration has given up plans for its Better Schools Act this fiscal year, but has served notice it will try again in fiscal 1975.

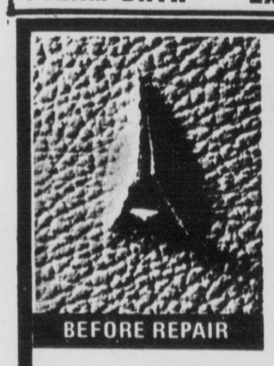

The 21 states and the Title I repayments sought by the federal government include: Arkansas, $615,548; Illinois, $3.9 million; Iowa $195,974; Kansas, $130,623; Minnesota, $207,900 and Nebraska $235,946.

PRACTICALLY EVERY HOME IN AMERICA IS BUGGED.

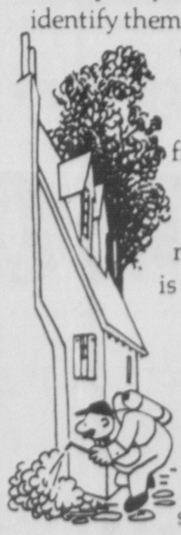

Bugs aren't the least bit class-conscious. Ants and spiders live happily in mansions. Silverfish breed enthusiastically in apartments. Roaches like suburbs just as much as cities.

But few housewives like to think about these creatures, much less deal with them.

Which is why professional pest control service makes so much sense.

The trained Terminix man can identify bugs — even some pretty exotic ones — and often identify them while they're still larvae. He has the expertise to select the right treatment — select from over 50 formulas. He's trained to treat where it will do the most good. (Often this is not where bugs show, but where they nest and breed.)

For all this professionalism, the cost is very modest. And anyway, isn't it worth something to have your house to yourself? Call 471-2455

SHS football future brightens

Sikeston high school's football future has hopefully taken a turn for the better with the addition of new coach Terry Smith and the resumption of the Junior High football program.

SHS will kickoff its gridiron practice Wednesday with its third new coach in five years.

The once feared Bulldog's have been doormates of the Northern Division of the SEMO conference for most of the five years since the retirement of the schools winningest coach, Bill Sapp.

But the blame for the poor showing of the SHS grid crews must be contributed to the lack of fundamentals, which the Jr. High program had contributed through the Sapp era, but which was dropped upon his retirement.

Each of the past two coaches, Pete Cirrintano and Bill Priday, put many hard hours into their work only to see many of their games lost because of fundamental mistakes.

Although coach Smith will inherit the same situation for at least a couple of years, his future work will be somewhat easier with the resumption of the gridiron program at the seventh and eighth grade level.

Coach Smith will begin his 10th year as football coach, the past five having been at Perryville where his teams recorded a 34-15-2 mark, claiming the AAA state title in 1968 and sharing the Northern championship with Cape Girardeau and Sikeston that year.

The College of the Ozarks graduate has lost only once to Sikeston during his tenure at PHS. Coach Smith has coached at Lewisville, Ark., and Prairie Grove, Ark., before taking the Perryville job.

"You'll find me as a pessimist," coach Smith commented. "I say little about the talents of our athletes during the season for one big reason .... it seems to affect some in the way they perform."

Coach Smith pointed to Cape Girardeau as the team to beat in the conference and tagged Poplar Bluff, Jackson and Kennett as teams to challenge them. "Our conference will have more balance than last year," Smith noted.

One- a- day drills begin Wednesday for high school athletes from the 10th through 12th grades, and coach Smith expects between 55 and 60 out. Equipment checkout will be at 4 p.m. with drills to begin at 5. "The first three days of practicd will be in shorts," coach Smith noted. The Missouri State High School Activities Association calls for the first three days of pre- season football practice to be held without equipment, excepting helmets and shoes. Full equipment may not be worn until the fourth day of practice.

Freshmen are to report for practice, Aug. 20th and Jr. High athletes the first day of school.

Coach Smith has already found one plus in his favor, that being the transfer of Kevin Waters, a seasoned quarterback from Virginia. He'll compete with Richard Blankenship for the starting job.

When asked about his offense, coach Smith only commented: "We'll move it down the road," referring to his hard- nosed ground game that was so often used while at Perryville.

SHS opens its season Sept. 14 before the home folks when Farmington calls.

Assisting coach Smith this season will be Jim Grahan, Al Holmes and Murray Sullivan. George Hale will head up a five- man junior high coaching staff which includes Martin Bass, John Heacox, Mike Foster and Webb Edwards.

Buttrey stars

Richard Buttrey was the star of the show Saturday as he led Illmo- Scott City to the Sikeston 11- 12 Year Old Invitational Championship title. He pitched his way past Jackson with a no- hitter to his credit for a 10- 0 win and a shot at first place. Poplar Bluff won the right to challenge them when they downed the Sikeston All-Stars 6- 1. The championship game went into an extra inning and was saved by Buttrey as he hit a two- run homer to bring in the winning runs giving Scott City a 7- 5 victory. Jackson ran into the same bad luck as before as they once again remained scoreless. The Sikeston All- Stars captured third place in the home tourney with a 4- 0 win.

In the opening game, both teams had trouble connecting and two and a half innings went scoreless before a score was put on the board. Illmo- Scott City began moving and had brought across five runs when Reinagel hit a grand-slam home run to make the score stand at 9- 0. Jackson's bats remained still against the hard throwing Buttrey and Scott City added a single run in the fourth to end the game and take the win. Buttrey and Dover contributed doubles for Scott City. Wessel was the losing pitcher.

The Sikeston All- Stars struggled throughout the entire game but could come up with only a lone run which fell short of the winning score. Poplar Bluff took the lead during third inning play when they brought across one run, but added to that in the fifth scoring five to capture the win. Dickens the winning pitcher with a one- hitter and Talkington hit doubles for extra base hits for Poplar Bluff. Deal slugged a homer for the only run for the All-Stars.

Jeff Young shut- out Jackson to earn the Sikeston All- Stars third place in the tourney. Sikeston took a 1- 0 stand in the third inning and put three more on the board in the following inning to give them the winning score. Campbell and Lee both homered to lead the All-Stars to the victory. Penrod suffered the loss.

Poplar Bluff took command of the game in the third inning when they came around for five runs. Illmo-Scott City had a slow time of it but was finally able to score and tie the game at 5-all during the fifth. Both teams battled for a hold and it was Scott City who eventually broke through. Having the home team advantage, Illmo held off Poplar Bluff and in the bottom of the seventh, Buttrey slammed a two- run homer to break the game open and claim the championship title. He also contributed a double and a single to put him four- for-three at the plate. Talkington and Little hit doubles for Poplar Bluff. Little was also the losing pitcher.

PUEBLO, Colo. — Jefferson City, Mo., edged Baxter Springs, Kan., 6-5 Sunday to capture the Midwest Plains Babe Ruth Baseball Tournament.

The Missourians, unbeaten in the double elimination tourney, qualified for the Babe Ruth World Series Aug. 18-25 in Manchester, N. H.

Jefferson City defeated Tri-County of Southeast Missouri in the state tournament after the Bootheel power had taken an unbeaten mark into the final day of play.

Curt Stalcup singled home the typing run in the sixth and doubled in the lead run in the eigth as Jefferson City came from behind. Baxter Springs had overcome an early Jeff City lead to go ahead 5-4 in the fifth.

Gary Lewis pitched a six-hitter and struck out nine to get the win.

Benton romps in ASA tourney

Benton moved past Kelso 16-0 in District Amateur Softball Association tourney play Saturday night. Vanduser took the second game 6-1 over a second Kelso team. Sunday's afternoon play saw Jackson defeat the Twin City 49'ers by a score of 12-5. The Oran Eagles shut-out New Hamburg 4-0 and the third game of the day was not completed because of rain.

Kelso could not move on the pitching of Ray Scherer. He fanned 10 of the Kelso batters to lead to the shutout. After scoring four runs in the first inning, Benton opened up and had a big second inning bringing across eight runs. Four more were added in the fourth to finish Kelso's chances of winning. Larry Steinler had two homers for Benton and Slug Emerson contributed two doubles. David Estner was the losing pitcher.

Vanduser got the jump on Kelso in the first inning scoring four runs which led to the win. Vanduser added two to that in the third to give them their final score. Kelso came across with a lone run in the third but proved to be no serious threat to Vanduser's win. Dave Gilliland hit a home run for Vanduser. Kelso's only run came from the Schwartz brothers. Charley Slapped a double and was then brought around by another double hit by Joe. Bill Gilliland was credited with the win. Ken Russel went two innings for Kelso allowing six earned runs and six hits.

In Sunday's action, Jackson had a big fourth inning to lead them to the victory. Twin City was consistent in their scoring, but could not bring enough runs across to stay within reach of Jackson. Four errors committed by Twin City helped to lead their defeat.

A triple by Greg Flaker and two doubles by Mat Edmunds led the Jackson hitting department. Edward Westrich pitched three complete innings for Twin City, allowing five earned runs and eight hits. Joe Heuring relieved him and also allowed five earned runs but six hits. Heuring slugged a home run for the 49'ers in the fourth.

Donny Robert was the standout for the Oran Eagles in their battle with New Hamburg. Defensively, he fanned 10 of the New Hamburg batters, allowing only a single hit and no runs. Offensively, he hit a three-run homer to give Oran three of their four runs to lead them to the win. Don Kern, the losing pitcher, had the only hit against the Eagles.

The third game between Kelso and Kelso CYC was started but because of rain was unable to be completed. Tonight, Kelso CYC and Kelso will finish their game with Scott City facing Cape Jets.

ML Stars claim title

The Sikeston Musial League All- Stars had to go 12 innings Friday night before claiming the championship of the East Prairie 8- 10 Year Old Invitational Tournament. The All- Stars defeated the Sikeston Aces 10- 4. Both teams had played earlier games Friday night to place them in the semi- final bracket. The championship game, set for Saturday, was moved back and the two Sikeston teams played their second game of the night for the title.

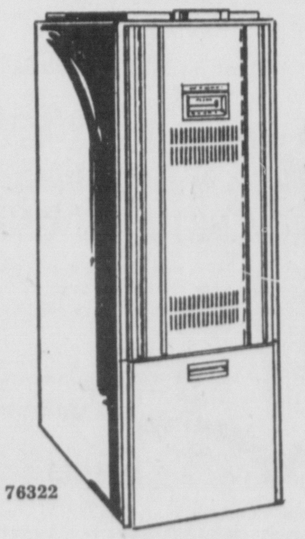

The All- Stars jumped in front of the Aces during first inning play, 5- 1 and action was slowed somewhat when Steve Rice, first baseman for the Stars, was hurt and had to be taken out. Both teams began hitting again in the third and the All- Stars remained in the lead when they added four runs to their previous score against that of the Aces three runs. The Aces struggled for a hold but could not gain on the Stars. A lone run in the fifth put the score at 10- 4 which gave the All- Stars the victory and championship title.

Kevin Self, the winning pitcher, and Rice both hit doubles for the Stars. Marty Williams suffered the loss.

Grandin murder case to be tried in Cape

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Three men charged with the Jan. 17 extortion-kidnap-murder plot involving a Grandin, Mo., banker, his wife and daughter were arraigned Friday on federal charges in U.S. District court here.

Dallas R. Delay, 33, of Valle Mines, Mo., pleaded innocent to charges of bank robbery and three counts of murder in the commission of a bank robbery. Lloyd D. Cowin, 20, and Jerry W. Rector, 22, both of Van Buren, Mo., pleaded innocent to charges of bank robbery and three counts each of kidnaping in the commission of a bank robbery.

Judge James Meredith set Oct. 29 for trials of the three at Cape Girardeau.

Delay and Rector have already pleaded guilty to state charges of murder in the case and are currently serving life terms in prison.

Cowin pleaded innocent to the state charges in Greene County Circuit Court in Springfield and his attorneys entered an additional plea Friday of innocent by reason of mental disease and defect. Judge James Keef approved a psychiatric examination for Cowin, whose trial on the state charges is set for early October in Springfield.

At the arraignment on the federal charges, prosecutors said the government believes the death penalty is applicable in the case. U.S. Atty. James E. Reeves contended the Supreme Court decision blocks imposition of the death penalty by state courts but does not apply to federal courts.

Meredith said he will reserve ruling on the prosecution's request for the death penalty.

The trio is charged in connection with the kidnap and murder of Robert Kitterman, president of the Grandin bank, his wife, Bertha and their daughter Roberta. The Kittermans were found shot and killed and tied to trees in a wooded area near Grandin shortly after Kitterman entered his bank and said he needed money because his family was being held hostage.

The extortionists received more than $10,000, nearly all of which was later recovered.

Prayer for today

from the Upper Room

A man shall be as an hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest; as rivers of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land. (Isaiah 32:2) PRAYER: O Lord, our God, we thank Thee for Thy enfolding love which surrounds those who look to Thee. Through Christ, our Savior and Lord, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven. . .Amen."

Probation-Parole headquarters to be in Kennett

KENNETT — Effective Sept. 1, a newly created district for the Board of Probation and Parole will be established for the Pemiscot-Dunklin area with headquarters in Kennett.

Max Clodfelter, present assistant district supervisor headquartered at Dexter, will assume the positon of district supervisor in Kennett.

Clodfelter, his wife and their three sons will move to Kennett within the next few weeks. He has been with the probation and parole department for nine years.

A native of Dexter, he holds a bachelor's degree from Southeast Missouri State University in Cape Girardeau and is a member of First Christian Church and Rotary Club in Dexter.

fact that the slovenly habits of a small per cent are costing all drivers highway funds desperately needed for improvements to our highway system," said Robert Hunter, chief engineer of the department.

"The $546,000 highway department forces spent statewide picking up litter were all dollars that could have been used constructively in Highway work. And they were all dollars that we badly needed to be using in other ways."

He added, "I've come reluctantly to the conclusion that some few people will only learn by being caught breaking the anti- litter law and then being punished for it. So I urge the overwhelming percentage of all Missouri motorists who do try to keep litter in its place to report immediately to the highway patrol any instances they see of unlawful littering of Missouri's highways."

Mo. GOP vows support for Nixon

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Missouri's Republican State Committee has vowed to stand behind President Nixon and has elected a 51-year-old Hannibal lawyer as its new chairman.

Albert Rendlen Sr., backed by Gov. Christopher S. Bond, was elected without opposition Saturday and Stanley Christopher of Kansas City, who had withdrawn from the race, seconded Rendlen's nomination.

Rendlen called for the state committee to give more assistance to the state GOP office holders.

Lawrence K. Ross, who also was elected unopposed as national committeeman, referred to "temporary problems" and "temporary impediments" in Washington and called for loyalty and dedication to President Nixon and Vice President Agnew.

The committee, with 58 of its 60 members represented in person or by proxy, voted to send a letter to Nixon, pledging confidence and commending him for ending the Vietnam war, improving relations with Europe, China and Russia and for "bringing order to our cities."

Watergate was never mentioned in the meeting.

The selection of a new state chairman had been postponed for two months to avoid any appearance of a party split. Unofficial polling in a previous meeting showed a close race. Support for Rendlen by Congressman Gene Taylor gave Rendlen enough votes to assure victory.

Christopher said he was not bitter and said he would do anything the party asked of him. He also seconded Roos' nomination.

Rendlen takes over from Richard Berkley, Kansas City mayor pro tem who resigned from the chairmanship, as well as from the state committee, because of business and personal reasons. Bond had picked Berkley to head the party last fall after Bond had won the GOP primary in the governor's race.

Roos succeeds John H. Nangle of Brentwood as national committeeman. Nangle was appointed a federal judge.

Rendlen, a party worker for 28 years who never ran for public office, called upon the Republicans to assist the Republican state office holders and said "They also must assist us."

He indicated a strong effort would be made to unseat longtime Democratic Sen. William J. Cason of Clinton, the Missouri Senate president pro tem. Cason ordered Lt. Gov. William C. Phelps, a Republican, removed from the Senate on the final day of the 1973 session. That prompted a four-hour boycott by GOP senators, holding up action on key bills. The Republicans returned when the state Supreme Court denied granting of a temporary injunction against Cason because it didn't have enough time to study the case.

officials said, is to permit inevitable price increases to take place gradually, rather than suddenly, and to limit increases to cost increases and not allow profit hikes.

Officials hope Phase 4 will be the last attempt to control the nation's economy. Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz has said he doesn't expect to announce Phase 5.

Shultz said he believes either Phase 4 will be the last such program or he won't be the secretary if Phase 5 is needed.

Food prices were partially unfrozen in July and some government officials have shown concern over the price increases since then.

Pork and eggs have been two of the fastest rising items, and officials say they also fear a jump in the cost of bread.

"We expected an increase ... but food prices clearly have gone up higher than we expected," said Kenneth Fedor, director of the Office of Food Price Monitoring in the Cost of Living Council.

Grain Market

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures prices leaped to limit gains of 20 cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade today, and other commodity futures followed suit.

At the opening, wheat was 20 cents a bushel higher, September 4.74; corn was 10 cents higher, September 3.37¾; oats were 6 cents higher, September 1.52½ and soybeans were up 40 cents, August 10.65.

Man held for investigation

CHARLESTON — Herbert Coke, 55, of the Deventer community is being held in Mississippi County jail for investigation of shooting three rear tires on tractors owned by Ed Marshall with an over and under combination rifle and shotgun.

The tractors were parked on the Marshall farm in the Deventer community, and the incident reportedly occurred about 7 p.m. Sundav.

Coke was arrested by Sheriff W. J. "Pedro" Simmons and Baughman at his home.

according to Deputy Sheriff Mike Baughman.
